To whom it may concern

The decision to abolish town councils was a huge loss to the democratic representatives and to local people represented by these elected people, some towns like Wexford have only a 3/4 councillors for a pop. Of over 20,000!. This was done by the FG/Labour Government without a vote by the people, unlike the senate and they got their answer there! Anything less than this restoration is only tinkering and won't improve local government in any meaningful way.
