Dear Secretary,

Watergrasshill is a village based in North East Cork which has grown by 26% in the past 10 years & further growth is planned as part of the Local Area Plan within the North Cork Municipal Development Plan 2017.

To date, Watergrasshill has been split between two electoral areas Cork North Central & East Cork where the divide runs through the Main Street within the Village.

As a result of this electoral split within the village, the village is also split between three local district offices of Cobh/ Midleton, Glanmire & Fermoy. Obtaining support from the various councils is proving difficult as no council is fully responsible for the village & surrounding townlands.

With the current electoral boundaries being revised within Cork, the community association acting on behalf of the residents of Watergrasshill & surrounding townlands would like to request that the village & surrounding townlands are aligned to one electoral area. Our preference is to be aligned to the Cobh District Electoral area.

Your Sincerely,

Robert Ryall
Chairman
